Challenging the Practice of Authentic

> I am rich toward God when I recognize my earthly bank account does not matter if I have a _____ with God.

The worst delusion in life is the illusion of success without God.

"A day is coming when banknotes will be as useless as rags and gold will be as worthless as the dust of the earth. A day is coming when thousands will care nothing for the things for which they once lived and will desire nothing so much as the things they once despised. The mansions and palaces will be forgotten in the desire for a house not made with hands. The favor of the rich and great will be remembered no more in the longing for the King of kings. The silks and satins and velvets and laces will be lost sight of in anxious need of the robe of Christ's righteousness. All will be altered. All will be changed in the great day of the Lord's return." —J.C. Ryle

2 Corinthians 8:9

Notes:

> I am rich toward God when I am _____ for what God has given me and when I allow this attitude to _____ how I live each day.

Romans 12:1-2

Everything I have, I've been given.
