

"... the founding of America was more than a political event. It was a promise, a promise to the colonists and to the world at large, that people could govern themselves, that they could live in freedom and equality.

"The assumption was that they would act in accord with reason and with equity, and out of this come what we often call, 'the American Dream.'" ARCHIBALD MACLEISH

"We hold these truths to be self evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by the Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

"And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Slide05.jpg Slide06.jpg

"It ought to be commemorated, as a day of deliverance, by the solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty." JOHN ADAMS

"Is it not that the Declaration of Independence first organized the social compact on the foundation of the Redeemer's mission upon earth? That it laid the cornerstone of human government upon the first precepts of Christianity?" JOHN QUINCY ADAMS

"Equality, liberty, popular sovereignty, the rights of man—these are not elements which we can see and touch. They are ideals. They have their source and their roots in the religious convictions. They belong to the unseen world."

"Unless the faith of the American people in these religious convictions is to endure, the principle of our Declaration will perish. We cannot continue to enjoy the result if we neglect and abandon the cause."

CALVIN COOLIDGE

"And let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion.
Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason ...

"God who gave us life gave us liberty.
Can the liberties of a nation be thought secure when we remove their only firm basis, a conviction in the minds of people that these liberties are a gift from God?"

THOMAS JEFFERSON, Jefferson Memorial

Slide13.jpg Slide14.jpg

"It cannot be emphasized too strongly or too often that this great Nation was founded not by religionists, but by Christians; not on religions, but on the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

"For that reason alone, people of other faiths have been afforded freedom to worship here."

PATRICK HENRY, 1776

"Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in the exclusion of religious principles." ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Slide19.jpg Slide20.jpg

"To educate a person's mind and not in morals is to educate a menace to society."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

"The frustrating thing is that those who are attacking religion (in America) claim they are doing it in the name of tolerance, freedom, and open-mindedness."

"Isn't the real truth that they are intolerant of religion? They refuse to tolerate its importance in our lives." RONALD REAGAN, 1984
