Integrity is...

- Rooted in Your Private World

-.009.tiff

“Integrity stems from an inner code, not an outer promotion.
Integrity is rooted in that private life we develop alone with God
in the secret, hidden place.”

—O.S. Hawkins, The Joshua Code

“There are many people whose lives are like one of Florida’s sinkholes. It is likely that at one time or another, many of us have perceived ourselves to be on the verge of sinkhole-like cave-in... they suddenly realize they have spent the majority of their time and energy establishing life on the visible level,
at the surface.”

-.011.tiff

“They have accumulated a host of good and perhaps even excellent assets such as academic degrees, work experience, key relationships, and physical strength or beauty... and discover that the private world is in a state of disorderliness or weakness.
And when that is true there is always potential for the sinkhole-syndrome.”

—Gordon MacDonald

If my private world is in order, it will be because...

(1) I am convinced that the inner world of the spiritual must govern the outer world of activity.

(2) I make a daily choice to monitor its state or orderliness.

-.013.tiff

If my private world is in order, it will be because...

(3) I respond to Christ's call to be a servant and form my life-purposes, my community-roles and personal identity around His fondest wishes for me.

(4) I have made daily determination to see time as God's gift and worthy of careful investment.

-.014.tiff

If my private world is in order, it will be because...

(5) I regularly choose to enlarge the spiritual centre of my life.

(6) I absorb the words of Christ into my attitudes and actions.

-.015.tiff

If my private world is in order, it will be because...

(7) I have begun to pursue the discipline of seeing events and people through the eyes of Christ so that my prayers reflect my desire to be in alignment with His purposes and promises for them.

—Gordon MacDonald
